Suspension

Suspension should be one of the first modifications you make. Fitting a cool set of wheels and tyres before your chassis is dropped will make your car look rubbish. Get it right with these quality suspension kits and you'll roll down the street with people applauding in appreciation*.

WINNER KW Automotive

When it comes to quality coilover suspension kits, KW has it all locked down. Their race heritage, huge application kits and innovative HLS (Hydraulic Lift Suspension) system makes their product line one to die for. There really is a product to suit every level of tuner. The German-based suspension company builds their kits to suit European roads, making their coilovers perform extremely well on our streets and tracks. Combine a high-quality product with a passionate UK dealer network and you've got a clear winner. Amen.

HIGHLY COMMENDED V-Maxx

Just for their massive range of applications alone, V-Maxx deserve a prize. But it's the killer pricing, great after-service that The Performance Company provides and quality product that secures this 'Highly Commended' prize. The ride quality is bang-on, too - even on our harsh UK roads.

SUSPENSION

HIGHLY COMMENDED AP Sport

The AP coilover system packs loads of features you'd expect from a suspension set-up with a big price tag. The simple-to-adjust collars, huge lowering capability and super-fresh blue finish make these a superb choice for the budget-conscious tuner.
